

UUCO Board of Trustees Covenant
Approved September, 15, 2013

As members of the UUCO Board of Trustees, we promise to follow the guiding principles of our covenant whose purpose is to lead us to be intentional in our interactions.

We will seek to represent our congregation's interests and act upon the Seven Principles of UU in all that we do together.

We will be clear about the assignments, responsibilities, and expectations we have of each other and respect each other's voice, commitments, and time.

We will make timely decisions and speak with one voice once they are made, being collectively transparent or confidential as needed.

We will welcome and respect the diverse perspectives, beliefs, and styles each brings, and exercise and encourage our individual and collective power to further the good of our congregation.

We will listen with patience, openness, and compassion whenever anyone speaks to us, and we will not denigrate others nor will we support the denigration of others by our silence.

We will be forgiving of ourselves and others when mistakes are made, and call each other back to covenant when we stray, acting as each other's support and accountability with the bonds of respect, love, and friendship.
